Re: Carlisle Mabrey

Mr. Beverage:

It is rare that an individual in any occupation or profession enters life's stage as a doer and leader and continues a career of excellence and service throughout a busy and giving life. Such is the case with Carlisle Mabrey.

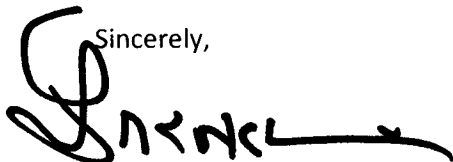

I have been asked to write a letter of support for Carlisle to become a member of the Oklahoma Bankers Association Bankers Hall of Fame. There is no one more deserving. I first met Carlisle as a fellow classmate at the OU College of Law. He was an engaging and brilliant student at the top of our class and a member of the platinum academic society, the Order of the Coif.

As a lifetime banker in Okmulgee, he embraced the essential mission of community banks, a director of the Independent Community Bankers of America and a member and chairman of the Oklahoma Bankers Association. He was also a member of the Oklahoma City Branch of the Federal Reserve.

His community service included chairing the Okmulgee Chamber and serving as Mayor of Okmulgee. His leadership and dedication to the State of Oklahoma included service as a member of the board of the state Department of Transportation, the Tulsa Regional Chamber, Philbrook Art Center and the OU Foundation.

Few states produce a man of the service, integrity and talent of Carlisle Mabrey. He is an Essential Citizen. He is our Essential Citizen. I support his selection without hesitation.

Sincerely,

Frank Keating

Dear OBA Hall of Fame Nomination Committee,

I am pleased to recommend Carlisle Mabrey III for the Oklahoma Banker's Association Hall of Fame as I can't think of a more deserving person. Since the early 1970s, Carlisle has demonstrated an unwavering commitment to the banking industry, Oklahoma businesses, the community, and the welfare of all Oklahomans.

Carlisle has served in several leadership positions throughout his career selflessly giving his talent and resources to positively contribute to the state. I am very grateful for everything Carlisle has contributed to the Trust Company of Oklahoma but also to the other organizations he has served such as ICBA, OBA, the Federal Reserve, the State Banking Board, the GRDA, State Insurance Fund, and many more.

For the Trust Company of Oklahoma, he has served as a director since the inception of our organization in 1981. During that time, he has provided great support, leadership, and advocacy to help us meet our mission of providing individuals, families, and businesses with fiduciary services, investment management and unbiased financial advice. Throughout the last 30 years I have worked with Carlisle, I have grown to respect and admire him as a man of great integrity and loyalty. He is kind, humble, and hard-working.

I have no doubt he deserves this recognition and appreciate your consideration!

Sincerely,

Dear Nomination Committee Members,

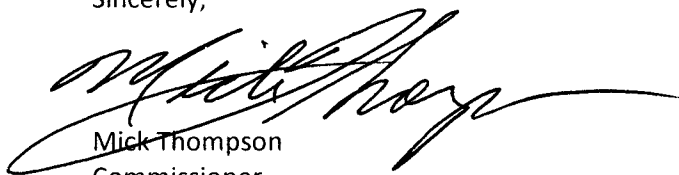

Please accept this letter as my endorsement of the nomination of Carlisle Mabrey, III, for induction into the Oklahoma Bankers Hall of Fame. Mr. Mabrey currently serves as the Chairman and CEO of Mabrey Bancorporation.

I have known and worked with Mr. Mabrey for many years. His was one of the first banks after I became the State Bank Commissioner to convert from a federally-chartered bank to a state-chartered bank. In addition, I worked regularly with Mr. Mabrey during his tenure as a State Banking Board Member.

Throughout his years of involvement in the banking industry, Mr. Mabrey has repeatedly shown a commitment to improvement, innovation, and growth of the industry while striving to maintain safe and sound protocols. In addition to serving customers, he has also served the industry through his membership of or involvement with the Board of Directors of the OBA, the State Banking Board, and the Board of Directors of the Oklahoma City Branch of the Federal Reserve, and the Independent Community Bankers of America.

Carlisle Mabrey, III, has been a supportive and enthusiastic member of the Oklahoma banking community for most of his life. I fully support his nomination for membership in the Oklahoma Bankers Hall of Fame.

Sincerely,

Mick Thompson

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I write to recommend the candidacy of Carlisle Mabrey, III for induction into the Oklahoma Bankers Hall of Fame. Carlisle serves as the Chairman and CEO of Mabrey Bancorporation, a family bank holding company for which he has served as the patriarch since 1978. Carlisle began rolling up a couple of his family's banks and then grew it from there. Over the course of his tenure, it has grown to over $1.2 billion of assets, while serving 15 communities. Consequently, I believe Mr. Mabrey easily attains the prerequisite for hall of fame recognition, being outstanding at running a community bank that produces consistent results over a long period of time.

Carlisle has served our country, our state, and his beloved community extensively. Nationally, he has served on the Oklahoma City Branch of the Federal Reserve, and the Air Force JAG CORPS, attaining the rank of Captain. On the state level, he has served as a Commissioner for the Oklahoma Department of Transportation, a member of the State Banking Board, a Director of the OBA, serving as Chairman in 1998, the Board Oversight Commission, State Insurance Fund, The Board of Trustees of the JRDA, and the University of Oklahoma Foundation. In Okmulgee, he served as President of the Chamber, Chairman of Okmulgee's hospital, Chairman of the United Way; and while running a major bank, still made time to serve as Okmulgee's Mayor for almost ten years. In Tulsa he has also served on the Chamber and the Philbrook Museum of Art.

Excellence in our profession, love of country, dedication to state, and selfless and tireless contribution to his hometown, make Carlisle the quintessential candidate for the Oklahoma Bankers Association Hall of Fame. I recommend him with enthusiasm.

Very respectfully,

Dear Members of the Nominating Committee,

I write in support of Carlisle Mabrey's induction into the Oklahoma Bankers Hall of Fame. I cannot think of a more worthy person to receive this honor both because of his contributions to banking in Oklahoma, but equally importantly his impact on communities across the State of Oklahoma. Carlisle in many ways represents those qualities that exist in the very best Oklahomans: a quiet competence, a commitment to community, and a generous and welcoming spirit.

I first met Carlisle when he joined the University of Oklahoma Foundation Board of Trustees in 2012. From the very beginning of his service on our board, Carlisle made significant contributions to the Foundation. While we are a charity that supports the University of Oklahoma, we function in many ways as a large financial services institution. Leveraging his tremendous experience in banking, Carlisle has given us perspective and advice that is helpful in both taking advantage of opportunities and mitigating risk. He has served in leadership roles on the board through chairing the Audit and Finance Committee and as a member of the Executive Committee. Regardless of role or situation, we count on Carlisle to ask the right questions and to provide the right counsel. When Carlisle speaks, the staff and his colleagues on the board listen.

Anyone who knows Carlisle knows he is an enormous fan and supporter of the University of Oklahoma. He is a distinguished alum of the University both as an undergraduate and as a graduate of the OU School of Law, where he is a member of the Order of the Coif. He has been extremely generous to OU with his time, his talent, and his treasure. In addition to his service at the Foundation, he served on the Dean of Law search committee in 2011, Reach for Excellence campaign committee in 2002, and Live On, University campaign committee in 2014. He and his wife, Ellen, rarely miss an OU football game and most often can be seen traveling when the team plays away from Norman. Carlisle serves his community in many ways, but his service at OU is one of the best examples of what is meant by "giving back".

Since we met nearly a decade ago, Carlisle and I have become friends. He never misses an opportunity to connect me with his many relationships in the Tulsa area and to have me over for a round of golf at Southern Hills. Carlisle Mabrey has made a special contribution to the many people and institutions in his life, to the banking industry, and to the State of Oklahoma. He has undoubtedly earned induction into the Oklahoma Bankers Hall of Fame.

Respectfully,

Guy L. Patton
